

Brentside Summer Challenge

Congratulations to everyone for all your hard work in what has been a very strange year for us all! We are looking forward to welcoming everyone back in September and we hope that everyone has a well earned rest over the summer holidays.

To keep your minds active and to give you all some focus over the break, here are a few challenges that you might like to get involved in:

READING:

Read as many books as you can over the summer break. Try to explore a new author or genre that you have not read before and post some recommendations on your class Purple Mash blog.

MATHS:

Bake with your family. Measure out the ingredients, work out the timings and share your creation equally between the members of your family.

WIDER CURRICULUM:

Find out about something that you are interested in. It can be a person (for example a footballer or a human rights activist), a place or a topic (for example dinosaurs, space or castles) and create a book to go into our school library with information about your chosen topic. Use words and pictures and remember the features of non fiction.

ONGOING CHALLENGE:

Keep a diary or scrapbook of the interesting things you do with your loved ones during your summer break. Remember that spending time together is important regardless of what you are doing. You might want to write about a lovely trip to the seaside, but a walk to the shops playing 'I spy' as you go can be just as fun and memorable. If we have learned anything over the past few months, it is the importance of spending time with each other and caring for the people that we love.

Have a lovely summer break

From everyone at Brentside 😊
